Neubiberg, Germany, 4 February 2021 – Today, Infineon Technologies AG is reporting its results for the first quarter of the 2021 fiscal year (period ended 31 December 2020).

"Infineon has made a good start to the new fiscal year. Despite headwinds from a weak US dollar, we recorded significant increases in both revenue and earnings in the first quarter. In addition to the economic recovery in some regions, we continue to benefit from the digitalization push affecting all areas of life. Semiconductors are needed more than ever," said Dr. Reinhard Ploss, CEO of Infineon. "We are monitoring ongoing risks closely. Nevertheless, in view of dynamic ordering momentum and manufacturing plants running at good utilization rates in the majority of product areas, we are making a slight upward adjustment to our outlook for the full year. We are increasing our investments in manufacturing capacity and bringing forward the starting date for the new power semiconductor plant in Villach to the last quarter of the current fiscal year."

Group performance in first quarter of 2021 fiscal year

Revenue for the three-month period increased from €2,490 million to €2,631 million quarter-on-quarter, with all segments contributing to the 6 percent growth despite the weaker US dollar. Revenue grew particularly strongly in the Automotive (ATV) segment. The Industrial Power Control (IPC) and Power & Sensor Systems (PSS) segments also recorded marked increases, while the Connected Secure Systems (CSS) saw a slight improvement compared to the previous quarter.

Infineon's gross margin rose from 31.8 percent in the previous three-month period to 37.4 percent in the first quarter of the current fiscal year. The adjusted gross margin improved from 36.6 percent to 40.3 percent quarter-on-quarter.

The Segment Result rose considerably from €379 million to €489 million, pushing up the Segment Result Margin for the quarter from 15.2 percent to 18.6 percent. In addition to a sharp decrease in underutilization costs, non-recurring items – such as research subsidies received and patent-related revenue – also contributed to the improvement.

The non-segment result for the three-month period was a net loss of €157 million, compared to a net loss of €197 million in the final quarter of the previous fiscal year. The negative effects from the acquisition and consolidation of Cypress, which are primarily related to the purchase price allocation, were lower than one quarter earlier, as expected. The non-segment result for the three-month period contained €75 million of cost of goods sold, €60 million of selling, general and administrative expenses and €8 million of research and development expenses. Net other operating expenses amounting to €14 million were also recorded in the first quarter.

Operating income rose from €182 million to €332 million quarter-on-quarter.

The financial result improved from negative €28 million to negative €26 million.

The tax expense for the three-month period amounted to €49 million, compared to €33 million one quarter earlier.

Income from continuing operations for the first quarter of the 2021 fiscal year increased to €256 million, up from the previous quarter's corresponding figure of €112 million. Income from discontinued operations in the first quarter was break-even, compared to a loss of €3 million in the preceding three-month period. Net income improved from €109 million to €256 million compared to the previous quarter.

Earnings per share from continuing operations improved from €0.08 (basic and diluted) to €0.19 quarter-on-quarter. Adjusted earnings per share<sup>1</sup> (diluted) for the three-month period went up from €0.20 to €0.28.

Investments – which Infineon defines as the sum of purchases of property, plant and equipment, purchases of other intangible assets and capitalized development costs – totaled €283 in the first quarter of the current fiscal year, compared with €332 million in the preceding three-month period. Depreciation and amortization decreased from €379 million to €368 million quarter-on-quarter.

Free cash flow<sup>2</sup> generated totaled €313 million, down from €387 million one quarter earlier. Net cash provided by operating activities from continuing operations amounted to €588 million, compared to €747 million in the final quarter of the preceding fiscal year.

At the end of the first quarter of the 2021 fiscal year, the gross cash position stood at €3,334 million, compared to €3,227 million at 30 September 2020, while the net debt improved by €437 million from €3,806 million to €3,369 million. Financial debt was reduced from €7,033 to €6,703 million during the three-month period. In addition to the repayment of financial debt of €174 million, the decline in the value of the US dollar against the euro – and hence the lower amount of US dollar-denominated debt – had a positive effect.

Outlook for the second quarter of the 2021 fiscal year

Based on an assumed exchange rate of US$1.20 to the euro, Infineon expects to generate revenue of between €2.5 billion and €2.8 billion in the second quarter of the 2021 fiscal year. Revenue generated by the ATV and PSS segments is predicted to grow by a low-single digit percentage compared to the previous quarter. Revenue in IPC is expected to remain at a similar level to the previous quarter while revenue of the CSS segment should see a low-single digit percentage decline quarter-on-quarter. At the mid-point of the guided revenue range, the Segment Result Margin is expected to come in at about 16.5 percent.

Outlook for the 2021 fiscal year

Based on an assumed exchange rate of US$1.20 to the euro, Infineon expects to generate revenue of around €10.8 billion (plus or minus 5 percent) in the 2021 fiscal year. Particularly for the ATV and PSS segments, revenue is expected to grow during the second half of the fiscal year, driven by continued market momentum. At the mid-point of the guided revenue range the Segment Result Margin is expected to come in at about 17.5 percent.

Investments in property, plant and equipment and other intangible assets, including capitalized development costs, are planned to be around €1.6 billion for the 2021 fiscal year. Depreciation and amortization are expected to amount to between €1.5 billion and €1.6 billion, of which approximately €500 million is attributable to depreciation and amortization from purchase price allocations arising mainly in connection with the acquisition of Cypress and to a lesser extent with the acquisition of International Rectifier. Free cash flow is predicted to exceed €800 million.

Besides geopolitical and macroeconomic factors, the economic disruption caused by the coronavirus pandemic makes accurate prediction difficult. Key factors influencing the expected development of revenue and earnings during the pandemic will be the progression of global infection rates over time, possible restrictions on economic activities, effects on production and supply chains and the level and effectiveness of governmental stimulus programs.

To enable better comparability of operating performance over time, Infineon computes adjusted earnings per share (diluted) as follows:

Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows

Gross and Net Cash Position

The following table reconciles the gross cash position and net cash position (i.e. after deduction of financial debt). Since some liquid funds are held in the form of financial investments, which, for IFRS purposes, are not considered to be “cash and cash equivalents”, Infineon reports on its gross and net cash positions in order to provide investors with a better understanding of Infineon’s overall liquidity. The gross and net cash positions are determined as follows from the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position:

€ in millions	31 Dec 20	30 Sep 20	31 Dec 19
Cash and cash equivalents	1,894	1,851	1,343
Financial investments	1,440	1,376	3,516
Gross cash position	3,334	3,227	4,859
Less:
Short-term financial debt and current portion of long-term financial debt	318	505	191
Long-term financial debt	6,385	6,528	1,340
Total financial debt	6,703	7,033	1,531
Net cash position	(3,369)	(3,806)	3,328

Free Cash Flow

Infineon reports the free cash flow figure, defined as net cash provided by and/or used in operating activities and net cash provided by and/or used in investing activities, both from continuing operations, after adjusting for cash flows related to the purchase and sale of financial investments. Free cash flow serves as an additional performance indicator, since Infineon holds part of its liquidity in the form of financial investments. This does not mean that the free cash flow calculated in this way is available to cover other disbursements, since dividend, debt-servicing obligations and other fixed disbursements are not deducted. Free cash flow should not be seen as a replacement or superior performance indicator, but rather as an additional useful piece of information over and above the disclosure of the cash flow reported in the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows, and as a supplementary disclosure to other liquidity performance indicators and other performance indicators derived from the IFRS figures. Free cash flow includes only amounts from continuing operations, and is derived as follows from the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows:

€ in million	3 months ended
	31 Dec 20	30 Sep 20	31 Dec 19
Net cash provided by operating activities from continuing operations	588	747	183
